PROGRAMME.

LAW SCHOOL DAY.

On Sept. 23, preliminary steps were taken for the organization of the Harvard Law School Association. At this meeting a constitution was adopted, and the first general meeting appointed for Friday, Nov. 5; this date being fixed with especial reference to the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Harvard College.

At later dates the committee have announced the following exercises.

Friday, Nov. 5.

NOON.

12 M. Business Meeting at Austin Hall, the new Law School building.

12 M. Election of Officers at Austin Hall, the new Law School building.

At the close of the business meeting a procession will be formed at Austin Hall under the direction of the marshal, Mr. Roger Wolcott, to be composed of the graduates and former members of the Law School, the invited guests of the Association, and the present students of the Law School, and will march to Sanders Theatre.

AFTERNOON.

1 P.M. Oration at Sanders Theatre, by Oliver Wendell Holmes, jun., Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts.

In Sanders Theatre the platform and floor will be reserved for the procession; section D of the lower gallery will be reserved until ten minutes before one o'clock for invited guests of the University; and sections C and E for graduates of the University wearing badges, with ladies accompanying them. The rest of the theatre will be open to the public, and there will be no tickets for admission.

At the conclusion of the exercises in Sanders Theatre, the procession will re-form and march to the Gymnasium, where the dinner will be held.

2 P.M. Dinner in the Hemenway Gymnasium, James C. Carter, Esq., of New York, presiding. Many brief addresses by distinguished members of the Association and invited guests.

TICKETS FOR THE DINNER can be procured at any time before six o'clock, Thursday, Nov. 4, of Messrs. CUPPLES, UPHAM, & Co., corner of Washington and School Streets, Boston, or tickets will be reserved on application, in person or by letter, to Mr. WILLIAM SCHOFIELD, No. 10 Tremont Street, Boston; and gentlemen can become members of the Association by sending the initiation fee of $1.00 to the Treasurer, Mr. WINTHROP H. WADE, 10 Tremont Street, Boston.

On Friday morning, Nov. 5, tickets for the dinner will be for sale at Austin Hall, from 9.30 A.M. until 1 P.M.; and the treasurer of the Association will be in attendance at Austin Hall during the same hours on Friday morning, to receive initiation fees from gentlemen who desire to join the Association.

Cards for the registration of the names and addresses of all the graduates and former members of the Law School who take part in the exercises will be provided at the same time and place.

None but graduates and former members of the Law School can buy tickets for the dinner.

Price of Dinner Tickets, $2.50 each.

MUSIC by THE PIERIAN SODALITY and THE COLLEGE GLEE CLUB.

The PIERIAN SODALITY will play as an overture March, op. 108, Mendelssohn.

A String Orchestra of the Sodality will play "Berceuse." Gounod-Brand.

The Glee Club will sing Eichberg's "National Hymn," with appropriate words written by an undergraduate. The club will also lead the singing of the ode.

The literary parts are to be published in the HARVARD ADVOCATE, and also in the DAILY CRIMSON.

The floor and lower gallery of the theatre will be reserved for the undergraduates. Tickets for seats in the upper gallery will be issued without charge to graduates; and a limited number of admission tickets will be distributed after the supply of reserved-seat tickets has been exhausted. Graduates may procure tickets upon application at No. 4 University Hall. Guests of the University will also be provided with reserved seats upon application at the same place.

AFTERNOON.

3 P.M. Foot-Ball. Intercollegiate championship match with Wesleyan on Jarvis Field. Open to the public. Admission, 50 cents.

6.30 P.M. Lawrence Scientific School. The graduates of the Lawrence Scientific School, to the number of two hundred and fifty, will hold a reunion and dinner on this day. An attempt will probably be made at the dinner to get an endowment for a new building. The school is now thirty-eight years old.

Tickets (price, $1.00) may be obtained of Professor W. S. Chaplin, 16 Prescott Street, Cambridge, or of Mr. G. R. Nutter at the Registration Room at No. 4 University Hall. Former students are requested as soon as they arrive to register at the school building, as well as at University 4.

10 A.M. to 5 P.M. The Observatory will be open to visitors from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M., when the instruments will be exhibited and their uses explained. The entrance to the grounds is on Garden Street.

LIFE OF HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW.

Edited by Rev. SAMUEL LONGFELLOW. 2 vols. 12mo. With 5 new steel-engraved portraits and many-wood engravings and fac-similes. In cloth, $6.00; in half calf, with marble edges, $11.00; in half morocco, with gilt top and rough edges, $11.00.

"It is an admirable piece of biographical work, and the story of the poet's career gives a view of the growth of American literature that is full of instruction and interest. It is a book that is sure to become a classic both in this country and England, and, indeed, in cultivated circles throughout the world."—Boston Budget.

"It is needless to add that the publication of these noble volumes is the literary event of the day, that all continents will greet it with delight, and that coming ages will quote it affectionately in recalling that Longfellow was not only a pure and great poet, which is much, but also a pure and great man, which is more."—The Beacon (Boston).

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE AND HIS WIFE.

By JULIAN HAWTHORNE. With portraits newly engraved on steel, and vignettes. 2 vols. 12mo. In cloth, $5.00; half morocco or half calf, $9.00; edition de luxe, numbered copies, $12.00.

"Colored with the very hues of life, and bearing the signature of truth. The reader will close the book with a new admiration for the pure-minded and honest gentleman who was the greatest original writer our country has produced."—New-York Tribune.

"And so the inspiration left behind by this biography is that of increase of happy faith in the power of high, disinterested love to transmute the prose of daily life into poetry, to give beauty for ashes, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness."—Boston Herald.

EVENING.

8 P.M. Torchlight Procession, the classes marching in costume; band, fireworks, illumination of college yard, and historical representations symbolical of the various stages in the life of the university.

8 P.M. Marching of Torchlight Procession. From Hemenway Gymnasium through Cambridge Street, Broadway, Quincy Street, Harvard Street, Prospect Street, Main Street, Quincy Street, Broadway, College Yard, Harvard Street, Harvard Square, Garden Street, Mason Street, Brattle Street, Craigie Street, Concord Avenue, Waterhouse Street, North Avenue, and Jarvis Street, to Holmes Field.

9.30 P.M. Display of Fireworks on Holmes Field.

In the procession, the seniors wear red student-gowns and black mortar-board hats; the juniors have a costume representing the American Continental soldier in the Revolutionary war; the sophomores wear a student costume; and the freshmen represent the "Boys in Blue" of 1861. Every school and department of the University represented in the procession.

The Law School members will wear black gowns and white wigs. Mr. Joseph Lee, the Chief Marshal of the Law School, will be attired as a Lord Chancellor of the last century.

A "RUSH" is expected from the freshmen and sophomores on the night of the torchlight procession, on the ground that there should be an exact representation of at least one of the early customs of the college.

FEATURES OF THE PROCESSION.

The following will be some features of the procession:—

John Harvard.—An impersonation of the founder, as faithful as can be made, from a critical examination of the anniversary's archives.

John Harvard's Pas.—Representing his father, who was a butcher, and his two step-fathers, a cooper and a grocer; also, little John.

Discipline in the Faculty. — Six professors administering a flogging to one of the younger instructors.

Old Printing Press. — The first printing press in America, north of Mexico, was set up in 1639, in the house of the Rev. Henry Dunster, first president of the College.

Early Benefactors. — Impersonations of Thomas Hollis, Matthew Holworthy, Gov. William Stoughton, and others, who made important gifts and bequests to the College in its early days.

Commencement Police. — A representation of the body of men provided to keep order about the College in the last century, when Commencement day was an occasion of general jollification for the students and for the public of Boston and vicinity.

A Costume of Fifty Years ago. — Students wearing the brilliant red Kentucky hunting jackets, which were worn in the College about 1832.

The Navy Club. — A representation of a students' society which originated about 1800, and lived fifty years. It consisted of all members of the senior class who failed to have literary parts at the Senior exhibition. The "Lord High Admiral" was usually the member who had been oftenest "rusticated." The annual parade was an affair of great importance. At one period the Club chartered a vessel annually for a cruise in Massachusetts Bay. The good scholars of the class were called "digs," and paraded with the true navy, bearing large spades.

The Washington Corps. — A military organization among the two upper classes, which lasted from 1811 to 1833. A height of 5 feet 5 inches was the only condition of membership. The corps commonly had two grand parades in the course of the year.

The Mott Haven Cup. — A representation of the silver cup which has become the property of the Harvard students after having been won, as required, seven times at the annual intercollegiate athletic sports in New York.

Music for the procession will be furnished by the Boston Cadet Band, the Salem Cadet Band, the First Regiment Drum Corps, and a Drum Corps from the law school.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY on Holmes's Field will be made to close the evening's doings.

FIREWORKS PROGRAMME.

At 7.30 P.M., the line of several thousand men, bearing torches and in Class uniforms of ancient date, representing the Puritans, Continentals, men of later dates, with other special uniform features, start from Quincy Street with several firework magazines or wagons, which display on the line of march various colored fires, golden fountains, bombs and batteries, and colored shells.

At 9 o'clock P.M., the firework display on Holmes Field will commence, — opening with a grand illumination of red, blue, and white fires, followed by batteries of Roman candles, volleys of mines, successions of rockets, and torbillions, discharge of aerial shells, parachutes and other novelties in large and liberal quantities; closing with a grand finale or temple design, — a colonnade of pillars, which are revolving and are decorated with flowers and foliage.

The columns support an arch of the composite order, and within the arch appears the motto (or words), —

“VIGESCAT ATQUE VULCAT INSIGNIS ALMA MATER.”

Within the temple and under the arch, the statue of John Harvard is displayed in bronze colored fires. The display closing with a grand salute from Murvined batteries of shells, mines, and aerial fireworks.

The fireworks display is in charge of Messrs. Masten & Wells of Boston.

Assets of over $11,000,000, with a Net Surplus over all liabilities of $2,300,000, by the valuation of the New York
Insurance Department.

POINTS FOR AN INSURER TO CONSIDER :

AN ORDINARY LIFE INSURANCE POLICY

Provides an estate for your dependents after your death, free from the claims of creditors.

AN ORDINARY ENDOWMENT POLICY

Provides for death, and also for one's advancing years, but at a heavy outlay.

THE MANHATTAN'S NEW PLAN

Offers both advantages combined in one, and at a very much reduced cost.

THIS new policy is superior to ordinary Life Insurance, because you need not "die to win." Superior to ordinary Endowment Insurance, because much less expensive.

SUPERIOR TO "TONTINE" INSURANCE,

First.—Because the results are not estimated, but fixed in a positive contract.

Second.—Because, after three years, there is no forfeiture of payments on discontinuance of the policy, a Cash or Paid-up value being guaranteed by the New York law. Business men appreciate the advantages of this new form of insurance, and are largely investing in it, because,—The annual deposit is practically saved, while it secures needed insurance during a designated period.

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various Tables,

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

It has 3000 more Words in its vocabulary than are found in any other American Dictionary, and nearly three times the number of Engravings.

It is the best practical English Dictionary extant.—Quarterly Review, London.

Webster is Standard Authority in the Gov't Printing Office, and with the U. S. Supreme Court, and is recommended by the State Sup'ts of Schools in 36 States, and by the leading College Presidents of the U. S. and Canada.

Published by G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Springfield, Mass.

for which, at fifty cents apiece, can be obtained at the Registration Room. After the procession has entered the dining hall, the east and west galleries will be opened to gentlemen wearing badges who were entitled to buy tickets for the collation.

Tickets are to be obtained only at the "Registration Room," No. 4, in University Hall.

Tickets for SANDERS THEATRE EXERCISES, at $2.00 each, can be obtained by graduates of the University in the same manner as tickets for the collation are obtained by graduates of the College; but not more than two tickets will be sold to any one Alumnus. Four hundred gallery seats in Sanders Theatre are reserved for ladies.

GENERAL NOTES.

Registration Room.—An office under the charge of Mr. GEORGE R. NUTTER will be opened at No. 4 University Hall, on Tuesday, the 2d November, for the registration of names, the sale of tickets, the delivery of badges, and the communication of needed information as to the time and place and conditions of the successive ceremonies of the Festival; and all graduates and invited guests of the University, attending the celebration, are requested to register their names, residences, and temporary addresses.

A badge will be given at the Registration Room to every participant in the Celebration. The badges will serve as means of identification, and are necessary to admit their wearers to the Oration in Sanders Theatre on Friday the 5th, to the Observatory and the Athletic Sports on the 6th, and to Appleton Chapel and Sanders Theatre on the 7th.

Restaurant in Massachusetts Hall.—During the Festival, a restaurant and smoking-room will be established in Massachusetts Hall, for the graduates and undergraduates and their friends.

Museums.—The Museum of Comparative Zoölogy, the Peabody Museum of American Archæology and Ethnology, and the Mineral Cabinet in Boylston Hall will be open on Friday, Saturday, and Monday, from 9 to 5 o'clock, and on Sunday from 1 to 5 o'clock.

The Botanic Garden and Greenhouses, on Garden Street, are open daily, including Sunday.

PHONETIC SHORTHAND :

A Method for Self-Instruction. By William W. Osgoodby, Twenty-four Years Official Stenographer of the New York Supreme Court.

The Manual.—This work has been lately revised and enlarged, and greatly improved, and is offered with the assurance that it contains the simplest presentation of Phonetic Shorthand yet published. The plan of the book is entirely different from that of any which has preceded it. The rules are progressively arranged, and have absolutely no exceptions; and the unnecessary and perplexing division of the subject into corresponding and reporting styles has been abandoned. Each rule has copious illustrations by which the student at once understands its practical application. The rules for Phrasing are simple, and the phrase-signs resulting from their use brief and legible. The Manual contains over forty pages of engraved Shorthand. Price, $1.50.

The Reader is handsomely engraved, and is attractive on account of its matter. It contains the whole of the celebrated Moon Hoax of Richard Adams Locke, which so surprised and delighted the world half a century ago. Price, $1.50.

The Epitome contains full illustrations (with key) of all the principles of Phonetic Shorthand. Price, 25 Cents.

The Copy Books are ruled with double lines, and furnish valuable aid to the student in the acquirement of a systematic and legible handwriting. They also contain copious illustrations, and the Table of Word-signs. Price, 30 cents.

The Dictionary of Word-forms and Phrase-signs (engraved) is now in course of preparation. It will not be a mere book of reference, like those heretofore published, but will be so arranged, and its contents will be such, that students who wish to make themselves masters of this useful art will find it invaluable. Price, $2.25.

Correction of Exercises.—Students who desire it, can have their exercises corrected, and their letters of inquiry answered, by the payment of six dollars and necessary postage. In this way, they will have all the benefit which could be obtained at the ordinary Shorthand schools, without the large expenses incident to the pursuit of such a study at a distance from home, and they will not be obliged to interrupt their usual avocations. The success of this method of instruction has been amply demonstrated.

☞ The above publications will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of the price.

W. W. OSGOODBY, Publisher, Rochester, N. Y.

“The Osgoodby Shorthand numbers among its writers some of the best court reporters of the Eastern States.”—Phonographic World.

“The system is very complete, harmonious, and practicable.”—Phila. Evening Call.

“A method now generally conceded the best extant. In celerity, brevity, and legibility, it has no equal.”—The Season.

“An excellent method.”—Baptist Church Home.

“Mr. Osgoodby is not only one of the best court stenographers in New York, but to people outside who do not know him, we wish to say that he is one of Rochester's most reputable and responsible citizens, and will perform to the letter all promises made.”—Rochester Commercial Review.

The Vendome,

CORNER COMMONWEALTH AVENUE AND DARTMOUTH STREET,

BOSTON.

THE HOTEL VENDOME is one of the largest and finest hotel structures in this country. Its elegance, spaciousness, sanitary excellence and unequalled location make it most desirable for transient visitors and tourists. It is also peculiarly attractive as a residence for ladies and families.

It is situated in the Back Bay District, one of the grandest architectural sections to be found in any country, and surrounded by noteworthy public buildings, — the Art Museum, Public Library, Trinity, New Old South, First Baptist and other prominent churches, and schools, both public and private.

Commonwealth Avenue (extending from the Public Garden to the new Park), upon which The Vendome has its main front, is acknowledged to be the finest boulevard in America. It is two hundred and forty feet wide, and, through its centre, is an improved Park, one hundred feet wide, lined with trees and shrubs, while facing it are the most costly and beautiful residences in the city.

Spurr's Veneers

NATURAL WOODS BACKED WITH PAPER.

MR. CHAS. W. SPURR:

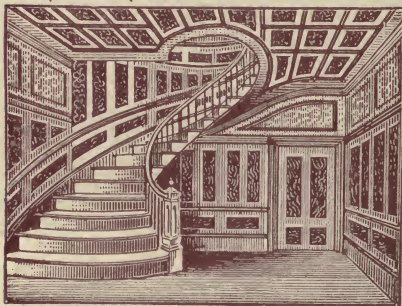

Dear Sir, — It gives me much pleasure to assure you that your Papered Veneers have proved very satisfactory in my house at Chestnut Hill. They have been in use more than eighteen years, and are now as handsome as they were at first. Yours truly,

LEVERETT SALTONSTALL, Boston.

"More durable, cleaner, handsomer, and more wholesome than any other decoration." — FRANCIS L. LEE, 254 Beacon Street.

"After nine years your veneers are as handsome as when applied. Your claims are all proved." — AUGUSTUS PERKINS, 112 Beacon Street.

Spurr's Papered Veneers for Plastered Walls and Ceilings.

Are you building a new home, or remodeling the old one? Try these PAPERED VENEERS. Until these woods were prepared, only the rich could enjoy the luxury of being surrounded with even the plain-grained hard woods. Now the home can be enriched with the choicest grained woods with small expense, great durability, and entire satisfaction.

24 selected and priced samples, with full directions, will be sent on receipt of 12 cents.

TO THE COLLEGE PUMP.

Your wooden arm you hold outstretched
 To shake with passers-by;
 Your friends are always thirsty ones,
 But you are never dry.

A hundred Classes at your lips
 Have drunk, and passed away;
 And where their fathers quenched their thirst
 The sons now quench to-day.

Some long for claret or champagne,
 And some for sheries pale,
 And some indulge in Adam's beer,
 But you in Adam's ale.

EVENTS IN HARVARD'S HISTORY.

COLLEGE founded Nov. 7 (Oct. 28, Old Style), 1636, by a vote of the General Court of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay; 1638, the Rev. John Harvard, a graduate of Cambridge, Eng., bequeathed to the College half (about £700) of his estate and the whole of his library; first master of the school, Nathaniel Eaton; first president, Rev. Henry Dunster; first tutor, Henry Flynt, appointed in 1639; first Commencement exercises, 1642,— nine graduates; first charter granted, 1650; first professor, Edward Wigglesworth (theology), 1721; in 1728, Latin ceased to be the spoken language of professors and students; first annual catalogue, 1819; elective system introduced, 1825; two hundredth anniversary celebrated Sept. 17, 1836, address by President Josiah Quincy, presiding officer at the Pavilion banquet Edward Everett, Yard and Halls illuminated; in 1865 all legal connection of Harvard with the State was severed; in the same year was celebrated Commemoration Day, in honor of the soldier-alumni and students killed in the war of 1860-65, collation in Pavilion, Ode by J. R. Lowell; Austin Hall (law), gift of Edwin Austin, finished 1883; John Langdon Sibley, class '25, died Dec. 9, 1885; in 1885, Mr. Henry F. Waters, class '55, discovered in England the true ancestry of John Harvard and the record of his baptism, as follows: "John Harvye s. of Robt. a Butcher." The Medical School founded 1783, Divinity School 1815, Law School 1817, Lawrence Scientific School 1847, Museum of Comparative Zoölogy 1859. In 1740 there were at Harvard about one hundred students; in 1819 there were 388: in 1886 there are 1,666, with 184 instructors and 242 courses of study. Nearly 15,000 degrees have been conferred by the University. Recent gifts to the College have been a $100,000 fund from Francis E. Parker, fund by John Eliot Thayer for new Quarterly Journal of Economics, and $115,000 by Thomas Jefferson Coolidge for new Physical Laboratory (finished October, 1884). The new plan of religious instruction embraces voluntary attendance at prayers, and increase of religious services under the new Plummer Professor and five "preachers to the University" appointed for one year. The University occupies about

THE UNITED STATES HOTEL of Boston,

OF which Tilly Haynes is proprietor, has shown changes under his management which are almost incredible. Taking the United States Hotel in 1880, after it had been declining in patronage and standing for years, Mr. Haynes almost at a touch revolutionized the place, and the popular regard for the old hotel, so that it once more gained a foothold as one of the most noted hotels of the United States. He began by remodelling and enlarging the interior, and refurnishing and improving it throughout, until it could justly be announced as one of the largest, best furnished, and best conducted hotels in this section of the country. In his work Mr. Haynes showed the results of his private and public efforts, which have made his name known to all who keep informed on the public interests of the State of Massachusetts. It will not be forgotten that he opened and successfully maintained the Haynes Opera House at Springfield, when the sentiment was against theatres. It will be remembered also that the Haynes Hotel in the same city was one of the best patronized hostelrys in Western Massachusetts. And furthermore, his public services in the Senate of Massachusetts will be remembered as a public trust, faithfully and competently executed. As a host and as an individual every one knows Mr. Haynes as whole-souled, generous, and public-spirited. It is, therefore, not to be wondered at, that the United States Hotel has, in his time, drawn a patronage that keeps the great accommodations strained to meet the constant demand on them. His spirit pervades the entire hostelry; and from the time that a guest gets within doors, his stay in this hotel is made pleasant, satisfactory, and luxurious, notwithstanding the fact that the prices range only from $2.50 a day upwards. There is no hotel in Boston furnishing more for the money charged than the "United States" does. As a political resort, this place has become noted; for, under the management of the United States Hotel Company, of which the Hon. George G. Crocker is secretary, and the Hon. Tilly Haynes is proprietor, it has become the home of a large number of the members of the Senate and House and their families. Under the present management, too, the neighborhood on all sides has taken such a progressive step as to become conspicuously noticeable. Its nearness to the Boston & Albany, the Old Colony & Fall River, the New York & New England, and the Boston & Providence depots, makes the "United States" a centrally located, as well as a most desirable hotel.

fifty large buildings for research, instruction, and dormitories. The University is unsectarian, and the prevailing tone is that of intellectual freedom united with a wise conservatism in respect to all matters tested by time and custom. It is a private incorporated institution, supported partly by fees of its students, but mainly by gifts of others and the income from its vast endowments.

THE CITY OF CAMBRIDGE.

CAMBRIDGE was settled in 1630 under the name of Newtown, which, in consequence of the establishment of the College, was changed in 1638 to Cambridge. In 1846 it was incorporated as a city, the population at the time being 13,000. It is known throughout the civilized world as the seat of Harvard University, whose buildings are the most conspicuous objects of interest. At the opening of the Revolutionary War, the army was assembled on Cambridge Common, where Washington took command of the American forces. Near the Common are his headquarters, the late residence of Longfellow.

The city of Cambridge is one of the two shire-towns of Middlesex County, and is situated on the Charles River, north-west of Boston. Its latitude at the Observatory is $42^{\circ} 22' 48''$ N.: longitude, $71^{\circ} 7' 45''$ W. It is connected with Boston proper by two bridges, with Charlestown District by one, with Brighton District by three, and with Brookline by one; and it is crossed by four steam railroads,—the Fitchburg, the Central Massachusetts, the Boston & Lowell, and the Boston & Albany. Its area comprises 5.85 square miles, or 3,744 acres, to which 570 acres were added in 1880 from the town of Belmont. The city is divided into five wards; and the village distinctions of North Cambridge, Old Cambridge, Cambridgeport, East Cambridge, Mount Auburn, Belmont District, Dublin, and Riverside designate geographical divisions.

Old Cambridge is the seat of the University, and of many residences and a few manufactories.

In East Cambridge are the Middlesex County Court House, Jail, House of Correction, and other county buildings, and many extensive manufactories.

Cambridgeport is a thriving and prosperous part of the city, containing the City Hall and many business and manufacturing establishments.

In North Cambridge are the fine residences, factories, brickyards, and potteries on the lines of the Fitchburg, Central Massachusetts, and Lowell railroads; and at Fresh Pond are the City Water-Works, and the ice business is carried on.

Riverside is one corner of Old Cambridge and is noted for its Riverside Press, Riverside Bindery, Dover Stamping Company's works, Alvan Clark's Astronomical Apparatus establishment, etc.

At Mount Auburn is the entrance to the Mount Auburn Cemetery, the Cambridge Cemetery, the Mount Auburn Catholic Burial Ground, McDonald's Marble Yard, Dee & Doyle's extensive Floral Conservatories, a postoffice, and a station of the Fitchburg Railroad. The village of Mount Auburn is partly in Cambridge and partly in Watertown.

Belmont District, so called, is the latest addition to the city. It comprises about 570 acres, which until 1880 was a part of the town of Belmont. It is chiefly occupied with dwellings, and Niles's Slaughter House. Dublin is mainly, as its name implies, a small Irish settlement, just off of North Avenue, in North Cambridge. Here is an old Catholic burial ground.

From a quiet university town, Cambridge, in the last thirty years, has become a place of considerable business importance. The population was in 1850 15,215, and in 1880 52,740,—an increase of 246 per cent; and in 1886 it is estimated at about 60,000. The valuation of real and personal estate was in 1850 $10,667,272, and in 1886 more than $50,000,000, without including the vast and valuable property of Harvard University.

The whole number of degrees that have been conferred by the University down to the first day of October, 1886, is 15,969. Of these 10,909 have been of the College, 2,128 of the Law School, 2,832 of the Medical School, and 496 of the Divinity School.

ORGANIZATIONS OF OFFICERS.

(With the year of their founding.)

1642. THE BOARD OF OVERSEERS was first established by an Act of the General Court in 1642; but its powers, functions, numbers, constituency, etc., have been radically changed since then. It now consists of the President and Treasurer of the corporation, and thirty other members, divided into six sections of five members each, who hold office for six years in rotation, the term of tenure expiring with each section successively on Commencement Day. Any A.B. of Harvard is eligible for membership to the Board five years after graduation, excepting members of the corporation and officers of the University. All Bachelors of Arts, Masters of Arts, and holders of honorary degrees can vote for Overseers.

1650. "THE PRESIDENT AND FELLOWS OF HARVARD COLLEGE" is the incorporate name of the University. The seven members of this body (the President, five Fellows, and a Treasurer) are known as the CORPORATION. Subject to the approval of the Overseers, they fill vacancies in their own body, elect the President of the University, all professors and other instructors, and act as "one body politic and corporate in law." They also manage the financial affairs of the University.

1725. THE FACULTIES of the different departments of the University comprise all the professors, instructors, and tutors, appointed for more than one year's term, and have immediate charge of the various Schools. The President of the University is President ex officio of all the Faculties.

1849. THE PARIETAL COMMITTEE. "The proctors and officers of instruction who reside within the College walls, or in buildings to which the superintendence of the College extends, constitute the Parietal Committee. It is their duty to take cognizance of offences against good order and decorum, and to attend daily prayers."

1863. THE ACADEMIC COUNCIL consists of the President, Professors, and Assistant Professors of the University. The Council is empowered to recommend to the President and Fellows candidates for the degrees of A.M., Ph.D., and S.D.

1867. THE LIBRARY COUNCIL consists of the President, Librarian, and six others appointed for a term of three years by the Corporation with the consent of the Overseers. The Council directs the management of the Library, the purchase of books, and the inspection of the several special libraries.

1881. THE UNIVERSITY CLUB. Until the organization of this club, Feb. 16, 1881, no opportunity was ever afforded the officers of all departments of the University to meet together for the purpose of becoming acquainted with one another, and of acting somewhat concertedly to advance the interests of the institution. Its meetings are only for conversation, and not for speeches or formal discussions. A supper is served. Its membership includes only the Corporation, the Board of Overseers, the Academic Council, and the leading representatives of the Library and of the Peabody Museum. At least four meetings in each academic year are to be held.

UNDERGRADUATE SOCIETIES.

THE INSTITUTE OF 1770 is the oldest of the College societies. The name tells the story of its age, and its active members are confined to the sophomore class. Its rooms are in Brattle Square.

THE HARVARD BRANCH OF THE Φ B K is the oldest existing chapter of that fraternity. It was founded in 1779. Membership is limited to the first twenty-five men on the rank list of each class. It has long since ceased to be an active society in college life, the principal features of its existence being the re-unions, and election of officers.—

THE PORCELLIAN CLUB, a social organization, has rooms on Harvard, near Holyoke, Street. It was founded in 1791, and selects eight members from each class.

THE HASTY PUDDING CLUB is the largest and most popular society. Founded in 1795, it selects about one-third of each class for members, and owns and occupies the society building on Holmes Field. It also has rooms in Brattle Square.

THE CHRISTIAN BRETHERN, founded in 1802, is, as its name implies, a society for religious culture. It was made a branch of the Inter-collegiate Young Men's Christian Association in 1885. The rooms are in the Lawrence Scientific School Building.

THE PIERIAN SODALITY, founded in 1808, is the oldest college musical society in the United States. The society meets in Roberts Block.

THE HARVARD NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY is a practical organization for the promotion of scientific study. It was founded in 1837, and is in a most flourishing condition.

THE O K is a purely literary society, founded in 1858. Its meetings are held fortnightly in rooms of its members.

THE GLEE CLUB was founded in the same year. The rooms are in Brattle Square.

THE ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY is a religious organization of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Its meetings are held in 17 Grays.

THE Π H (Π ETA) SOCIETY, the second largest social organization, was founded in 1865. Its rooms are in Brattle Square.

THE A. D. CLUB occupies a club-house corner of Mount Auburn and Dunster Streets.

THE HARVARD CHAPTER OF THE A Δ Φ was established in 1836. Members are elected from the three upper classes.

THE EVERETT ATHENEUM, a sophomore society, was founded in 1869. Rooms in 19 Brattle Square.

THE SIGNET is a literary senior society, founded in 1870. Rooms, 7 Brattle Square.

THE HARVARD ART CLUB was founded in 1873. The club occupies No. 19 Grays Hall.

THE HARVARD FINANCE CLUB was founded in 1878. Under its auspices lectures on economic topics are given during the winter.

THE HARVARD HISTORICAL SOCIETY, founded in 1880, is composed of seniors and resident graduates.

THE HARVARD BRASS BAND was organized in 1883. The members meet for practice in the Hasty Pudding building on Holmes Field.

THE HARVARD CHAPTER OF THE Δ Υ was established in 1881. The rooms are in the Lawrence Scientific School building.

THE IOTA CHARGE OF THE Θ Δ X was established in 1855. The rooms are in Roberts Block.

THE RHO CHAPTER OF THE Z Ψ FRATERNITY was established in 1847. Its rooms are on Church Street.

THE HARVARD TOTAL ABSTINENCE LEAGUE indicates its objects in its name. Under its auspices addresses are made during the year by prominent temperance speakers.

THE HARVARD UNION is a debating society which meets every alternate Thursday evening in Sever 11.

MEDICAL SCHOOL SOCIETY.

THE BOYLSTON MEDICAL SOCIETY, founded in 1811, and incorporated in 1823, is a practical working organization composed of members of the Medical School. Its prizes for essays on medical subjects are assiduously competed for, and are considered marks of great honor.

LAW SCHOOL CLUBS.

THE POW WOW is the oldest of the existing Law School clubs. It has become an important adjunct to the Law School itself; for it is, in fact, an amateur law court, and elaborate and valuable work is done in the preparation and arguing of cases.

THE AMES PLEADING CLUB, named in honor of Professor James Barr Ames, is a Law School club, like the Pow Wow.

THE GRAY CLUB, named for Professor John Chipman Gray, jun., is, like the Pow Wow, a Law School club.

THE THAYER CLUB is also a Law School club, like the Pow Wow. It is named in honor of Professor James Bradley Thayer.

ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS.

THE H. U. BASE-BALL CLUB was organized in 1865 by members of the class of 1866. Its captain is elected by the Nine itself, while the other officers are chosen at a general meeting of the undergraduates of the College.

THE H. U. BOAT CLUB is directed by an executive committee, all the members of which, excepting the captain, are chosen by the undergraduates. The boat club not only controls the management of the "Varsity Crew," but also the general aquatic affairs of the College, including the class races held each spring and autumn.

THE FOOT-BALL CLUB was organized in 1873, and has played games every year, at first with fifteen men, and later with only eleven.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION is a general organization in which any undergraduate can be a member by paying the initiation fee and the annual dues. Exhibitions are given in the gymnasium, and out on Jarvis Field, which are attended by large numbers of ladies and gentlemen.

THE LACROSSE ASSOCIATION was for a time popular, and had a very fair team, which played creditable matches with other clubs. For a time it was in a dormant condition.

THE CRICKET CLUB was re-organized in 1879, after many previous attempts to make cricket a standard Harvard game having failed. The cricket club had a crease laid out on Holmes Field.

THE BICYCLE CLUB was organized in 1879, at the time when bicycling became a prominent recreation here. It has a club-room, and meets frequently for "club runs" in fine weather. It also has given field meetings on Holmes Field.

THE HARVARD TENNIS CLUB is also in successful operation, and keeps up a creditable racket.

THE COLLEGE PAPERS.

The "HARVARD ADVOCATE" is the oldest of the existing college papers, being founded in 1866. It is published fortnightly.

The "DAILY CRIMSON" is an outgrowth of the "CRIMSON," a fortnightly founded in 1873, and the "DAILY HERALD" founded in 1882. The editorial rooms are in the Lyceum Building.

The "HARVARD LAMPOON" was founded in 1876. It is a humorous illustrated paper, published fortnightly.

The "HARVARD MONTHLY," founded in 1885, aims to be a distinctively literary paper. The leading article in each number is by some prominent graduate.

UNIVERSITY BOOKS.

THE HARVARD BOOK, published by Vaille & Clark in 1874, in two quarto volumes, is the most comprehensive work.

SIBLEY'S HARVARD GRADUATES, three volumes, comprises elaborate biographies of some of the earliest graduates.

THE QUINQUENNIAL CATALOGUE is the official record of all alumni and recipients of degrees.

THE ANNUAL CATALOGUE is the official announcement of officers, courses of instructions, lists of students, and all information supposed to be needed by the public.

HARVARD AND ITS SURROUNDINGS is the illustrated guide-book, its seventy illustrations making it a complete photographic album of the university.
